Dear Irv:

I am writing to extend my sincere thanks to you once again for your participation as a speaker in our summer institutes. In both cases, the scholars' reactions, both immediately after your presentation and in their final program evaluations, were most positive. They particularly enjoyed hearing about the U.S. media from the perspective of one who has been active in various roles within the industry. Several participants commented on and appreciated your candor and insights.

I hope that you found the experience to be an enjoyable one, and that we can call upon you to take part in future programs. Again, my thanks, along with my best wishes for a pleasant remainder of the summer.

Sincerely,

Philip M. Hosay
Director
